Sorrento Pacific Financial, LLC (referred to as “we,” “us,” or “SPF”) is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission as a broker-dealer and an investment adviser. Additionally, we are a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (“SIPC”).

Brokerage and investment advisory services and their fees differ, and it is important for you to understand the differences.

To help you research firms and financial professionals, free and simple tools are available at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Our financial professionals offer brokerage services, investment advisory services, or both, depending on their licenses. Each financial professional generally provides access to a range of investment products such as stocks, bonds, exchange traded funds (ETFs), mutual funds, annuities, and alternative investments. Please note that the range of investment options available to you may be limited depending on the licenses your financial professional holds or if he or she is located at a financial institution that does not offer certain options. Your account program may also have specific requirements, such as account or investment minimums. Ask your financial professional if any investment limitations or account requirements apply. If your financial professional offers you both brokerage and advisory services, your financial professional will inform you when he or she offers an investment recommendation or advice whether the recommendation or advice is part of a brokerage or advisory service. There are important differences between brokerage and investment advisory accounts, including their costs to you and the nature and extent of the services provided. Some of the key differences between brokerage and investment advisory services are described below.

Brokerage Services

- If you plan to follow a buy-and-hold strategy without ongoing advice from a financial professional and you prefer to pay for each transaction, a brokerage account may be the right choice for you.
- We offer full-service brokerage accounts with a wide variety of investments such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and exchange traded funds. We do not offer proprietary products.
- In most cases, where we provide recommendations to you to buy, sell, or hold specific investments, you must provide approval for each trade. You, not your financial professional, make the final investment decisions for your account.
- Although we do not provide ongoing monitoring of brokerage accounts unless we say we will in writing, we may periodically review accounts to determine whether to provide a recommendation.
- We do not have a minimum account size to maintain a brokerage account.

Investment Advisory Services

- If you want a financial professional to provide ongoing investment advice, an advisory relationship may be right for you.
- Some of the investment advisory services we offer include wrap fee programs and non-wrap fee programs; mutual fund asset allocation programs; advisory services programs offered by third-party investment advisory firms; financial planning/consulting services; and retirement plan consulting.
- There are different types of advisory accounts you can choose. You can select an advisory account that allows us to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you in advance (a “discretionary account”), or we may give you advice and you decide what investments to buy and sell (a “non-discretionary account”).
- For our discretionary accounts, you give your financial professional or a third-party investment manager the authority to buy and sell securities, either absolutely or subject to certain restrictions. This authority varies according to the advisory program, and there is a prohibition against exercising discretion in a client’s account unless you grant us written authority to enter orders on your behalf.
- For our nondiscretionary accounts, you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase and/or sale of investments.
- We will typically monitor accounts and investment models or strategies within accounts on an ongoing basis to align with your investment goals. However, in limited scope consulting or financial planning relationships, we won’t provide ongoing monitoring unless we say we will in writing.
- The advisory services we provide may also have account/investment minimums, which are detailed in the applicable Form ADV brochure for your program.

More detailed information about our brokerage services is provided in SPF's Brokerage Services Disclosure Summary (BSDS). More detailed information about our advisory services can be found in our Form ADV (specifically Items 4 and 7 of our Part 2A Brochure. Applicable disclosures are available to you at <https://cusonet.com/disclosures/>.

Conversation Starters. Questions to ask your financial professional:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Should I choose a brokerage service? Should I choose both types of services? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

There are important differences between brokerage services and advisory services, including their costs to you. Below we describe the fees you could be charged depending on your investment choices.

Fees Associated with Brokerage Services

- For brokerage services, we usually charge transaction-based fees (sometimes referred to as a commission and ticket charges) every time you buy or sell an investment. The amount you pay as transaction-based fees varies according to the particular investment and amount invested. The more trades you make, the more transaction-based fees we earn. This creates an incentive for us to encourage you to trade often.
- For investments in stocks or ETFs, the transaction-based fee is usually charged as a separate commission that is added to the principal amount of the transaction. For investments in bonds, this fee is typically included as part of the price you pay or receive for the investment (called a markup or markdown).
- For investments in certain products like mutual funds, annuities, and alternative investments, we usually receive transaction-based fees from the investment product sponsors in the form of asset-based sales charges (e.g., sales loads). These fees are based on the amount invested in a product and, depending on the product, may be based on how long you hold the investment. Our receipt of asset-based sales loads creates an incentive to recommend products or sponsors that include such charges.

Fees Associated with Investment Advisory Services

- For investment advisory services, we typically charge an ongoing fee (sometimes referred to as an asset-based fee) which is paid monthly or quarterly in advance or in arrears. This fee is a percentage of the value of your account. You pay this fee even if you don't buy or sell investments. The more assets you have in an asset-based fee account, the more you'll pay us in fees. This creates an incentive for us to encourage you to increase the size of your account, including by transferring or rolling over assets from other accounts.
- For wrap fee program accounts, you will pay us a single asset-based fee. This fee covers most transaction costs and certain administrative and custodial costs associated with your investments. For non-wrap fee programs, there are asset-based fees for investment advice, but separate transaction fees. We may also charge an hourly fee or a fixed fee for additional services such as financial planning and consulting services that are limited in duration or nature.
- Some investments (such as mutual funds and variable annuities) incur additional fees and expenses that will reduce the value of your investment over time.
- The fee you pay your financial professional is typically negotiated with him or her directly and subject to different maximums depending on the advisory program selected.

Other Fees and Costs

If applicable to your account, you will be charged directly for other fees in addition to brokerage commissions and advisory fees, including the following: (1) outgoing transfers, IRA maintenance and termination fees, ticket charges, and direct registration of securities; (2) cash management fees such as checking, wired funds, margin extensions, and stop payments; (3) investment specific fees such as administration of alternative investments or foreign securities; and (4) asset-based fees on mutual funds, ETFs, and other pooled funds.

For brokerage accounts please refer to our Brokerage Services Disclosure Summary for more information on fees and costs. Please refer to the Form ADV applicable to your advisory program (specifically Item 5) for more information on fees and costs that apply to your account.

Certain investment products have significant fees triggered by particular events, e.g., annuities may include mortality, expense, and administrative fees, and fees for excessive transfers or early withdrawals. Depending on the investment product in which you invest, fees and costs are described in the product's prospectus or other offering document.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Conversation Starter. Questions to ask your financial professional:

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations as my broker-dealer or when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we provide you with a recommendation as your broker-dealer or act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the recommendations and investment advice that we provide to you.

Specifically, there are conflicts of interest associated with the compensation that we and our financial professionals receive.

Commissions or other compensation related to one financial service provider, product, investment, or service may be higher than commissions or other compensation related to a comparable provider, product, or service. Those higher rates of compensation provide incentives to us (and our financial professionals) to recommend certain providers, products, or services over those with lower rates of compensation.

Below are some examples of our conflicts of interest. If you have any questions about whether any of these situations could apply to your investments, ask your financial professional.

Third-Party Payments

We receive compensation from third parties related to investments you make in certain products, including mutual funds, ETFs, annuities, alternative investments, and other investments. This compensation includes ongoing distribution charges (e.g., 12b-1 fees or trail payments), which an investment product charges you as an investor and then pays to us.

We also receive various benefits from our relationship with our clearing and custodial firm, Pershing LLC. Some examples include payments related to uninvested cash balances you authorize us to move into money market funds and FDIC insured bank deposit products, a growth assistance credit to help us grow our business on the Pershing platform, and a portion of certain account transaction, service, and custodial fees that exceed the amount we are charged for these transactions and services. This creates an incentive for us to maintain a cash balance with us.

Revenue Sharing

In addition to the third-party payments described above, we also receive revenue sharing payments from sponsors who participate in our marketing program called the Partners Program, which means that third-party sponsors share with us a portion of the revenue they earn on your investments. Because we receive payments from these sponsors, we have an incentive to recommend or invest your assets in their sponsored investments. Detailed information regarding third-party payments, including revenue sharing, can be found in our Brokerage Services Disclosure Summary and Third-Party Fee Disclosure at <https://cusonet.com/>

Principal Trading

In brokerage accounts, we sometimes directly buy from you or sell to you investments including bonds or certain shares of mutual funds and unit investment trusts (UITs). These are called principal trades. If the principal trade involves a bond, we receive a markup or markdown by either buying the bond from you at a lower price than we will sell it for or by selling the bond to you at a higher price than we bought it for. That creates an incentive for us to either buy the bond from you at the lowest price possible or sell the bond to you at the highest price possible and maximize our profit on the principal trade.

Detailed information on our conflicts of interest can be found in our Brokerage Services Disclosure Summary and our Form ADV, Part 2A.

Conversation Starter. Questions to ask your financial professional:

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

The agreement between each financial professional and SPF sets out the payments we make to them. Our financial professionals can provide brokerage services, advisory services, or both. Those who provide you with brokerage services generally receive a portion of the commission or markups/markdowns from your trades. When providing advisory services, our financial professionals receive a portion of the advisory fee that you pay. Receiving a portion of the advisory or brokerage transaction fees you pay to us creates an incentive for a financial professional to encourage you to increase your investment account size, trade more frequently, or recommend products that pay higher commissions.

We also compensate financial professionals and your financial institution based on production, including payments based on the amount of client assets they service and the products they sell. In addition, our financial professionals receive different amounts of compensation for selling different types of investments or services. This could include, for example, a share of the 12b-1 fees, trail payments, or sales loads paid to us by certain investment products. Although your financial professional must recommend investment products or manage your account in your best interest, these additional forms of compensation create an incentive for them to recommend specific financial products that pay them more. Our financial professionals receive compensation in other ways, including:

- Transition assistance to your financial institution if your financial professional moved to us from another company. This assistance can include repayable or forgivable loans and/or waiving, subsidizing, or reducing other costs associated with transitioning the financial professional's business. This assistance creates an incentive to migrate and maintain business with us, and to sell or recommend the sale of investments held in an account if we do not offer those investments.
- Waived or reduced costs for marketing, technology, practice management programs, or subscriptions.
- An annual awards program based on total sales with the firm overall, accumulating assets, or for non-registered insurance sales.
- Non-cash benefits from product sponsors and third-party money managers including items such as gifts valued at less than $100 annually, an occasional dinner or ticket to a sporting event, support in connection with educational meetings, seminars or client appreciation events, and reimbursement for marketing or advertising initiatives, including services for identifying prospective clients.
- More information on our financial professional's compensation can be found in our Form ADV and Brokerage Services Disclosure Summary.

Investment Objective Definitions

- A. Conservative: Investors who seek investments designed with emphasis placed on the prevention of capital loss with secondary concentration in current income.
- B. Income: Investors who seek investments primarily focused on the continued receipt and steady stream of income.
- C. Growth & Income: Investors who seek investments where emphasis is placed on modest growth with some focus on the generation of income.
- D. Growth: Investors who seek investments primarily focused on achieving high capital appreciation with little emphasis on the generation of current income.
- E. Aggressive Growth: The most aggressive objective. Investors who seek investments focused on maximizing capital appreciation and not concerned with the generation of current income. Aggressive growth investments will assume high market risks for potentially high returns.

Risk Tolerance Definitions

- A. Low: I want to preserve my initial principal in this account, with minimum risk, even if it means this account does not generate significant income or returns and may not keep pace with inflation.
- B. Medium: I am willing to accept some risk to my initial principal and tolerate some volatility to seek higher returns, and understand I could lose a portion of the money invested.

Sorrento Pacific Financial, LLC Business Continuity Plan

Sorrento Pacific Financial, LLC ("SPF") has developed and tested a Business Continuity Plan on how we will respond to events that significantly disrupt our business. Since the timing and impact of disasters and disruptions is unpredictable, we will have to be flexible in responding to actual events as they occur. With that in mind, we are providing you with this information on our business continuity plan.

SPF Headquarters and Staff – SPF headquarters including our operations, trading, service center and back office support is located in San Diego, California. SPF has representatives, program managers, and sales support staff located throughout the country. Data for SPF customers regarding account balances, trading activity and documentation is maintained in geographically diverse centers including Pershing, LLC in New Jersey.

Contacting Us and Access to Your Funds – If after a significant business disruption you cannot contact SPF as you usually do at you should go to our website at www.sorrentopacific.com. If you cannot access us through either of those means, you should contact our clearing firm, Pershing, LLC, P.O. Box 2065, Jersey City, New Jersey 07303-2065; or 201-413-3635, for instructions on how it may process limited trade-related transactions, cash disbursements, and security transfers for brokerage accounts. For direct business accounts customers may contact the appropriate advisory, insurance or mutual fund company that holds the account. Contact information for the direct business provider can be found on the account statement.

Our Business Continuity Plan – We plan to quickly recover and resume business operations after a significant business disruption and respond by safeguarding our employees and property, making a financial and operational assessment, protecting the firm's books and records, and allowing our customers to transact business. In short, our business continuity plan is designed to permit our firm to resume operations as quickly as possible, given the scope and severity of the significant business disruption.

Our business continuity plan addresses: data backup and recovery; all mission critical systems; financial and operational assessments; alternative communications with customers, employees, and regulators; alternate physical location of employees; critical supplier, contractor, bank and counter-party impact; regulatory reporting; and assuring our customers prompt access to their funds and securities if we are unable to continue our business.

Our clearing firm, Pershing, LLC, backs up our important records in a geographically separate area. While every emergency situation poses unique problems based on external factors, such as time of day and the severity of the disruption, we have been advised by our clearing firm that its objective is to restore its own operations and be able to complete existing transactions and accept new transactions and payments within 4 hours. Your orders and requests for funds and securities could be delayed during this period.

Varying Disruptions – Significant business disruptions can vary in their scope, such as only our firm, a single building housing our firm, the business district where our firm is located, the city where we are located, or the whole region. Within each of these areas, the severity of the disruption can also vary from minimal to severe. In a disruption to only our firm or a building housing our firm, we will transfer our operations to a local site when needed and expect to recover and resume business within 4 hours. In a disruption affecting our business district, city, or region, we will transfer our operations to a site outside of the affected area, and recover and resume business within 24 to 48 hours. In either situation, we plan to continue in business, transfer operations to our clearing firm if necessary, and notify you through our website www.sorrentopacific.com or our customer emergency number, 1-800-393-6363, how to contact us. If the significant business disruption is so severe that it prevents us from remaining in business, we will assure our customer's prompt access to their funds and securities.

Important Disclosures – SPF will adhere to the procedures described in its Business Continuity Plan. There are however, circumstances beyond the control of SPF. Therefore, SPF, in its sole discretion, reserves the right to flexibly respond to any disruption in a situation-specific and prudent manner. Additionally, if parts of our plan are dependent upon third parties, we will have no control over the success or failure of the third party.

For more information – If you have questions about our business continuity planning, you can contact us at 1-800-393-6363.

Anti-Money Laundering Requirements

The USA PATRIOT ACT

The USA PATRIOT Act, signed by President Bush on October 26, 2001 is designed to detect, deter, and punish terrorists in the United States and abroad. The Act imposes anti-money laundering requirements on brokerage firms and financial institutions.

To help you understand these efforts, we want to provide you with some information about money laundering and our steps to implement the USA PATRIOT Act.

What is money laundering?

Money laundering is the process of disguising illegally obtained money so that the funds appear to come from legitimate sources or activities. Money laundering occurs in connection with a wide variety of crimes, including illegal arms sales, drug trafficking, robbery, fraud, racketeering, and terrorism.

How big is the problem and why is it important?

The use of the U.S. financial system by criminals to facilitate terrorism or other crimes could well taint our financial markets. According to the U.S. State Department, one recent estimate puts the amount of worldwide laundering activity at $1 trillion a year.

What are we required to do to eliminate money laundering?

Under the rules required by the USA PATRIOT Act, our anti-money laundering program must designate a special compliance officer, set up employee training, conduct independent audits, and establish policies and procedures to detect and report suspicious transactions and ensure compliance with the new laws.

As part of our required program, we may ask you to provide various identification documents or other information. Until you provide the information or documents we need, we may not be able to open an account or effect any transactions for you.

If you have any questions, you may contact our Compliance Department at

ITEM 1 INTRODUCTION

SPF is a broker-dealer registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). SPF is also registered as an investment adviser with the SEC. In addition, SPF is qualified to sell insurance products in all 50 states. As a broker-dealer, SPF transacts business in various types of securities, including mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), stocks, bonds, commodities, options, private and public partnerships, variable annuities, real estate investment trusts (REITs) and other investment products.

SPF maintains a network of individuals, referred to as "financial professionals", who typically operate from the premises of unaffiliated financial institutions, credit unions or banks, through a networking arrangement with SPF. The financial professionals offer brokerage services, investment advisory services, or both, depending on their licenses. Most of SPF's financial professionals are investment adviser representatives (IARs) of SPF and a limited amount are an IAR with non-affiliated third-party investment adviser. SPF sometimes refers to these specific financial professionals as "financial advisors" or "investment advisors." SPF's financial professionals are in most cases either employed by the financial institution or they are SPF employees. SPF financial professionals are dispersed throughout the U.S.

Although most of our financial professionals offer both brokerage and investment advisory services, some only offer brokerage services. When you are discussing services with one of our financial professionals, you should ask in what capacity the financial professional is acting or will be acting - as a broker-dealer registered representative and/or an IAR - when providing services to you. This disclosure discusses important information regarding financial professionals who act as broker-dealer registered representatives of SPF. For more information about SPF and the services that financial professionals provide when they act as IARs, please see SPF's Form ADV disclosure brochure available on cusonet.com/disclosures/ or, in the case of a financial professional who is associated with a third-party investment adviser, please refer to www.adviserinfo.sec.gov or contact that investment adviser for a copy of its Form ADV. For additional information on which type of investment account is right for you, please see SPF's Form CRS (Customer Relationship Summary) on cusonet.com/disclosures/.

Like all financial services providers, SPF and our financial professionals have conflicts of interest. SPF and our financial professionals are compensated directly by customers and indirectly from the investments made by customers. When customers pay us, we typically get paid an upfront commission or sales load at the time of the transaction and in some cases a deferred sales charge. If we are paid an upfront commission, it means that we are paid more the more transactions a customer makes and/or the larger the transactions. When we are paid indirectly from the investments made by customers, we receive ongoing compensation, typically called a "trail" payment, for as long as a customer holds an investment. In addition, we receive compensation from the sponsors of some of the investment products we offer. The amount we receive varies depending on the particular type of investment purchased. The compensation described in this disclosure represents the maximum gain or profit we receive on an investment, before deduction of our expenses.

Please also note that not all of the conflicts described in this disclosure apply to a particular financial professional, his/her services or all the products we offer. The types and amounts of compensation we receive change over time. Further, financial professionals may be paid in different manners. You should ask your financial professional if you have any questions about compensation, costs, fees, or conflicts of interest.

ITEM 2 COMMISSIONS, FEES AND OTHER TYPES OF SALES COMPENSATION

Commissions and Sales Charges

SPF receives upfront commissions when it executes transactions that result in the purchase or sale of a security. A commission, which also may be called a sales load, sales charge or placement fee, is typically paid at the time of the sale and can reduce the amount available to invest or can be charged directly against an investment. Commissions are often based on the amount of assets invested. SPF receives the sales charge or commission and shares it with the financial institution in the cases where the financial professional is an employee of the financial institution. The financial institution then pays your financial professional. Alternatively, when the financial professional is an employee of SPF, or an independent contractor, we pay them directly. In some cases, a portion of the sales charge or commission is retained by the investment's sponsor. Commissions vary from product to product, which creates an incentive to sell a higher commission product rather than a lower commission product. The maximum and typical commissions for common investment products are listed below. For more information about other commissions that apply to a particular transaction, please refer to the applicable investment's prospectus or other offering document.

- Equities and Other Exchange Traded Securities. The maximum commission charged by SPF in an agency capacity on an exchange traded security transaction, such as an equity, option, ETF, exchange traded note (ETN,) or closed-end fund (CEF) is .5 % of the transaction amount plus $750. The commission amount decreases from 2.5% as the size of the transaction amount increases according to a schedule. In addition, a financial professional can decide to discount the commission amount to a minimum of $50 per transaction.
- Mutual Funds and 529s. The maximum commission or sales charge permitted under applicable rules is 8.5%, although the sales charge typically does not exceed 5.75%.
- Annuities. The maximum upfront commission paid for new sales of annuities is typically 7.5%, but varies depending on the contract length purchased, and type of annuity, such as fixed, fixed index, and traditional and investment-only variable annuities.

- Alternative Investments. For alternative investment products, such as non-traded business development companies (BDCs), or real estate investment trusts (REITs), the upfront sales load is as high as 5.5%.
- Unit Investment Trusts (UITs). The maximum upfront sales charge paid typically ranges from 1.85% to 3.50% and will depend on the length of the term of the UIT.

Markups and Markdowns - Principal or Dealer Transactions

When SPF sells to or buys from you a bond or other fixed income security such as a structured product in a principal capacity, SPF sells the security directly to you or buys it directly from you, rather than acting as your agent to buy or sell the security from a third party. These transactions are also known as "dealer transactions." In these circumstances, if we sell a bond at a price higher than what we paid for it, we will earn a markup. Conversely, if we buy a bond from you at a price lower than what we sell it for, we will earn a markdown. Transactions in bonds and other fixed-income securities such as structured products often occur as dealer transactions. The maximum markup/markdown on a transaction with a customer that we receive when acting in a principal capacity typically does not exceed 2.5% of the value of the security. On rare occasions, a markup/markdown may exceed 2.75% on a deeply discounted security. In many cases, the actual markup/markdown percentage is lower based on factors such as quantity, price, type of security, rating, and maturity, etc.

Direct Fees and Charges

SPF is an introducing broker and carries all brokerage accounts and clears all securities transactions on a fully disclosed basis through Pershing, LLC, our clearing and custodial firm. SPF also has an agreement with Quasar Distributors for the provision of fully disclosed carrying services for mutual funds.

If you hold an account through SPF with one of our custodial firms, you will be charged miscellaneous fees directly to your account such as fees for transaction processing, account transfers, and retirement account maintenance which are standard and customary. For direct fees that apply per transaction, SPF and our custodial firms receive more fees the more transactions that result from a financial professional's recommendations. These direct fees and charges are set out in the Pershing and Quasar fee schedules and are not shared with our financial professionals and are not charged by SPF and our custodial firms if you hold an account directly with a product sponsor rather than with a SPF custodial firm.

ITEM 3 THIRD PARTY COMPENSATION

SPF and the financial institution and/or the financial professionals receive compensation from investment product sponsors and other third parties in connection with investments that SPF customers make in securities such as mutual funds, annuities, and alternative investments. Certain types of third-party compensation are received by SPF and shared with the financial institutions and/or our financial professionals, and other types are retained only by SPF. For more information about the third-party compensation SPF receives, the investment product sponsors and other third parties that pay SPF the compensation, and related conflicts of interest, please see the Third-Party Compensation and Related Conflicts of Interest at cusonet.com/disclosures/.

Third Party Compensation Shared by SPF with Financial Institution and/or our Financial Professionals

Trail Compensation

SPF and its financial professionals receive ongoing compensation from certain investment products such as mutual funds, annuities and alternative investments. This compensation (commonly known as trails or Rule 12b-1 fees) is typically paid from the assets of the investment product under a distribution or servicing arrangement with the investment sponsor and is calculated as an annual percentage of assets invested by SPF customers. The more assets you invest in the product, the more we will be paid in these fees. Therefore, we have an incentive to encourage you to purchase a product offered by a sponsor who shares a portion of their compensation with us or increase the size of your investment. The amount of trails received varies by product. This creates an incentive to recommend a product that pays a higher trail rather than a lower trail. We also have an incentive to recommend product that pays trails (regardless of amount) rather than products that do not pay trails. For more information about trail compensation received with respect to a particular investment, please refer to the prospectus or offering document for the investment.

- Mutual Funds and 529s. The ongoing payment depends on the class of shares but is typically between 0.25% and 1% of assets annually.
- Annuities. SPF receives a trail payment from an insurance company for the promotion, sale and servicing of a policy. The amount and timing of trail payments vary depending on the agreement between SPF and the issuer, and the type of policy purchased. The maximum trail payment for annuities is typically 1.25% and varies depending on the type of annuity.
- Alternative Investments. For alternative investment products, such as private funds, trail payments may be as high as 1.00% on an annual basis.

Concessions and Mutual Fund Finder's Fee

In certain cases, SPF and our financial professionals receive compensation from a mutual fund sponsor in connection with transactions for which sales charges are waived or under other circumstances and as described in a fund's prospectus. This compensation is generally referred to as a finder's fee or concession and typically ranges between 0.25% and 1% of the transaction amount. SPF also receives concessions from investment sponsors for other types of investments. These concessions vary from product to product and are generally shared between SPF and our financial professionals. Concessions can be as high as 0.05% of the transaction amount for new issues of certificates of deposit, municipal bonds and other short-term dated bonds, and up to 3.75% of the transaction amount for structured products.

Life Insurance

SPF receives compensation from issuers of life insurance (universal, variable universal, whole life, and term) and other insurance contracts that are available to our customers. The compensation includes commissions and trails and for some issuers, includes payments for administrative services that SPF provides. Payments can also be made in connection with SPF's marketing, education and training efforts, including SPF conferences and events. SPF receives commissions in the range of 3% to 120% of first-year commissionable premiums. SPF may also receive a trail payment in the range of 1% to 25% of subsequent premiums, if any. The amount of commission varies depending on the issuer, coverage and the premium amount. For business placed through SPF, we typically retain between 1.5% and 12% of first-year commissionable premiums to support the additional case-management services that SPF provides for products offered through SPF. Financial institutions and/or our financial professionals receive a percentage of the commissions and trailing commissions an insurance company pays to SPF. We also receive additional compensation from certain insurance companies when SPF sales of the companies' products exceed premium thresholds specified in selling agreements with SPF.

Lastly, when our financial professionals use an Independent Marketing Organization (IMO) with which SPF has a contract, we receive the additional compensation from the IMO rather than from the insurance company. This additional compensation from the IMO can apply to transactions where the financial professional is paid directly from the insurance company.

Bonus Payments from Investment Sponsors

Certain insurance companies offer our financial professionals bonus payments, often times called persistency or retention bonuses, based on the amount of customer assets that the financial professional has placed in the insurance company's products. Although SPF does not participate in these bonus programs SPF may from time to time accept and share these payments on a one-time basis with a financial professional who recently joined SPF and was entitled to such payments through the financial professional's former brokerage firm.

Non-Cash Compensation

SPF and our financial professionals receive non-cash compensation from investment sponsors that is not in connection with any particular customer or investment. Compensation includes such items as gifts valued at less than $100 annually, an occasional dinner or ticket to a sporting event, or reimbursement for expenses in connection with educational meetings, customer workshops or events, or marketing or advertising initiatives, including services for identifying prospective customers. Investment sponsors also pay or reimburse SPF and/or our financial professionals, for the costs associated with education or training events that may be attended by SPF employees and financial professionals and for SPF sponsored conferences and events.

Third Party Compensation Retained by SPF

Pershing Clearing Relationship

When Pershing is the custodian of your account, Pershing automatically moves (sweeps) the cash in your account into money market funds and/or FDIC insured bank deposit accounts depending on your account type. All retail accounts default to the bank deposit account and all business accounts default to a money market fund. Pershing retains some of the interest paid on the bank deposit account, or shareholder servicing fees paid on the money market fund and pays a portion of that to SPF. These payments to SPF are called "distribution assistance" and they vary based on the bank deposit account or money market fund for which you are placed. SPF does determine the interest rates paid on bank deposit accounts but does not determine the shareholder servicing fees paid on money market funds, or the amount or percentage of distribution payments that it will receive. When interest rates are low, or in the event of a regulatory change, Pershing reserves the right to reduce or discontinue its distribution assistance payments to SPF.

SPF's receipt of distribution assistance payments, and ability to determine the interest rates paid on bank deposits, creates a conflict of interest because SPF has an incentive to recommend or make available money market funds and FDIC insured bank deposit accounts with higher distribution assistance payments over those with lower payments. SPF mitigates this conflict through disclosure in this brochure. SPF does not share distribution assistance payments with our financial professionals.

Pershing also pays fees to SPF, or shares fees it earns with SPF, for the following items:

- Transition assistance in the form of reimbursement of (a) reimbursement of IRA termination fees of up to $165 per account for a retirement account transferred to Pershing and up to $125 per retail account for retail accounts transferred to Pershing, or (b) a payment based on the value of assets transitioned, or (c) some combination of fee reimbursements and a payment based on the value of the assets transitioned;

- A growth assistance credit for seven years to support, service, and grow brokerage assets on the Pershing platform;
- A portion of certain brokerage account services and custodial fees charged to customer accounts that exceeds the amount that we are required to pay Pershing for such services, including account transfer fees, IRA custodial and termination fees, paper confirm and statement fees, inactive (custodial) account fees, retirement account maintenance fees, and margin interest.

Revenue Sharing Payments

SPF receives revenue sharing payments from investment sponsors who participate in SPF's sponsorship programs called the Partners Program. Investment sponsors make these payments to incentivize SPF to promote their products, and the sponsors receive preferential treatment as a result of the payment. Preferences include supporting SPF's product marketing, education and training efforts for financial professionals so that investment sponsors can communicate with financial professionals and employees and promote their products. These payments are typically calculated as a fixed fee, as an annual percentage of the amount of assets invested, as a percentage of annual new sales, or as a combination of the foregoing.

- Mutual Funds. SPF receives compensation of up to 0.0032% on an annual basis of customer assets invested with certain mutual fund families and up to 0.20% on sales. In some cases, SPF also receives flat annual payments at the discretion of certain fund sponsors as support for SPF's product marketing and the education and training efforts for financial professionals in connection with the sale of their products.
- Variable Annuities. SPF receives compensation of up to 0.25% annually based on sales.
- Fixed Annuities. SPF receives compensation of up to 0.25% annually based on sales.
- Fixed Index Annuities. SPF receives compensation of up to 0.75% annually based on sales.
- Alternative Investments. For certain alternative investments, SPF receives a marketing allowance fee directly from the investment sponsor, and not as a portion of the upfront commission or trail. These fees can be paid on an annual basis of up to 0.35% of customer assets invested and up to 1.00% of sales in alternative investments, such as managed futures funds, non-traded REITs, and BDCs.
- UITs. SPF receives fees, often referred to as volume concessions, from UIT sponsors that are based on a percentage of sales volume. These fees are set by the UIT sponsor and vary. The UIT prospectus contains detailed descriptions of these additional payments.

Investment sponsors pay SPF different amounts of revenue sharing and receive different levels of benefits for such payments. Because these fees can vary by fund and share class of a fund, SPF has an incentive to recommend a fund or share class that pays more in revenue sharing than a fund or share class that pays a lower amount. SPF does not share these revenue sharing payments with financial professionals.

Ad Hoc Reporting

SPF receives up to $5,000 per sponsor annually from various mutual fund, ETF and annuity investment sponsors in exchange for access to business intelligence and ad hoc reporting relating to financial professionals.

Collateralized Lending Arrangements

SPF offers a program that enables customers to collateralize certain investment accounts to obtain secured loans through a program we offer through Pershing called LoanAdvance. In LoanAdvance, customers are charged a rate of interest equal to the prime rate for all loan amounts. Neither SPF nor the financial professional receives a portion of this fee. LoanAdvance may not be appropriate for all investors and the risks should be carefully evaluated. You may be required to deposit additional funds or marginable securities into your account. SPF and our financial professionals have an incentive to recommend that customers borrow money rather than liquidating some of their account assets so that SPF and our financial professional can continue to receive brokerage commissions and fees on those assets.

We also offer Pershing's Fully Paid Securities Lending program, which enables qualified customers to lend fully paid-for securities to Pershing. Pershing earns revenue from lending these securities and a portion of that revenue is shared with the customer, SPF and your financial professional. SPF and your financial professional shares in 5% of the revenue received. We have an incentive to encourage customers to hold a security in their account rather than liquidate it so that we and our financial professionals can continue to receive compensation.

ITEM 4 PRODUCT COSTS AND RELATED CONFLICTS

Our financial professionals provide recommendations with respect to a broad range of investment products, including stocks, bonds, ETFs, mutual funds, annuities and alternative investments. Each type of investment product carries unique risks, and many investment products charge fees and costs that are separate from and in addition to the commissions and fees that SPF and our financial professionals receive. You can learn more about these risks and the fees and costs charged by an investment product by reviewing the investment product's prospectus, offering memorandum, or other disclosure documents. Set out below is the typical range of expenses of the various investment products we sell. In most cases, these expenses are in addition to the commissions and fees that SPF receives for our brokerage services.

- ETFs. The expense ratios range from 0.05% to 1.0%, with an average expense ratio of around 0.44%.
- Mutual Funds. Expense ratios can vary based on the type of mutual fund purchased. The average expense ratio for actively managed funds is 0.5% to 1.0%, for passive index mutual funds the average is 0.2%.
- Annuities. The typical range of annual expenses associated with annuities is 0.60% to 5.00% dependent upon the combination of options selected by the investor including the type of annuity (variable annuities have a mortality and expense fee whereas fixed index annuities do not), optional riders elected (living and/or death benefits), and investment options where applicable (subaccounts or models for variable annuities).
- Alternative investments. The typical range of annual expenses, excluding any commissions or dealer manager fees, is 0.80% to 6.00% which may include management fees, acquisition fees, disposition fees, performance participation fees, organization and offering fees, acquired fund fees and expenses, or interest payments on borrowed funds.

- UITs. Typical annual operating expenses for UITs range from 0.20% to 4.00%. Equity UITs usually comprise the low end of the range while UITs whose trust consist of a basket of closed-end funds typically comprise the high end of the range.

Share Class and Fund Selection

SPF offers various share classes of mutual funds and 529s. As an example, certain mutual fund share classes, often referred to as Class A shares, charge an upfront sales charge and an ongoing trail. For other mutual fund share classes, often titled Class C shares, there is no upfront sale charge paid, however, there is an ongoing trail payment and a contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC) to the customer if there is a redemption within a certain period of time after purchase. Depending on the length of the holding period for the mutual fund or 529, and other factors, one share class may be less expensive to you than another, and SPF and your financial professional may earn more or less in compensation for one share class than another. Because of their characteristics and sales load structure, mutual funds generally are longer term investments. Frequent purchases and sales of mutual funds can result in significant sales charges unless the transactions are limited to exchanges among mutual funds offered by a sponsor that permits exchanges without additional sales charges. SPF maintains policies and procedures that are designed to detect and prevent excessive mutual fund switching, but you should monitor your account and discuss with your financial professional any frequent mutual fund purchases and sales.

Some share classes or funds we offer do not charge or pay to us an upfront sales charge and pay us ongoing trails of 0.25% or less annually ("no-load funds"). SPF generally does not make no-load funds available. Because of the limited compensation from no-load funds, we have an incentive to limit the availability of no-load funds we offer and to recommend you invest in funds that impose sales charges and trails.

SPF offers various mutual funds and ETFs, some of which have similar or identical investment strategies but differing fee structures. For example, a mutual fund that is designed to track an index of securities, such as the S&P 500 Index, may have higher or different types of fees than an ETF that is designed to track the same index. Whether a fund or ETF is more expensive than another fund or ETF with a similar or identical investment strategy may depend on factors such as length of holding, size of the initial investment and other factors. SPF and your financial professional may earn more compensation for one fund or ETF than another, giving SPF and your financial professional an incentive to recommend the product that pays more compensation to us.

ITEM 5 OTHER COMPENSATION AND OTHER CONFLICTS

Mutual Fund Platforms

If purchasing mutual funds through SPF' two custodial firms, Pershing and Quasar (fundVISION accounts), a customer's fees may vary. The fees a customer will pay and the range of investment products and services that will be available to a customer will differ depending on whether a customer opens a Pershing account or a fundVISION account. If you invest only in mutual funds, you will generally pay lower fees (e.g., transaction fees, IRA custodial fees, inactive account fees) if you open a fundVISION account than if you open a Pershing account. SPF will likely receive greater compensation if you invest through a Pershing account than if you invested through a fundVISION account. This creates an incentive for SPF to recommend a Pershing account over a fundVISION account for investing in mutual funds. You should also understand that, although you may pay higher fees to invest in mutual funds through a Pershing account than through a fundVISION account, Pershing accounts offer a wider range of investment products (not just mutual funds) and services than do fundVISION accounts, which only offer mutual funds. None of these fees for either platform are shared with your financial professional. If you invest in mutual funds through a direct product provider, you would be subject to their fee schedule and any such fees are not shared with SPF.

Margin

SPF offers customers the ability to purchase securities on credit, also known as margin purchases through Pershing brokerage accounts. When a customer purchases security on margin, Pershing extends a line of credit to the customer and charges interest on the margin balance. SPF has a financial incentive to encourage margin borrowing because SPF earns compensation from Pershing in the form of interest, transaction charges and other fees on investments made with borrowed amounts. That financial incentive creates a conflict of interest insofar as SPF benefits from your decision to borrow and incur the various fees and interest described above. If contemplating use of margin, please consult the SPF/Pershing Margin Agreement and related disclosures for additional details including risks associated with margin, eligibility requirements and costs. None of these fees derived from margin accounts are shared with your financial professional.

Error Corrections

If a customer holds an account through SPF at Pershing or Quasar (fundVision) and a trade error caused by SPF occurs in the account, SPF will cancel the trade and remove the resulting monetary loss to a customer from the account. If a trade correction is required as a result of a customer (e.g., if a customer does not make full payment for purchases or fails to deliver negotiable securities for liquidations before trade settlement), SPF will cancel the trade and any resulting monetary loss will be borne by the customer. In the case of a trade that requires a correction and that resulted in a monetary gain to the customer, such gain may be removed from the account and may result in a financial benefit to SPF.

Rollovers

If a customer decides to roll assets out of a retirement plan, such as a 401(k) plan, and into an individual retirement account (IRA), we have a financial incentive to recommend that a customer invests those assets through SPF, because we will be paid on those assets, for example, through commissions, fees, and/or third party payments. A customer should be aware that such fees and commissions likely will be higher than those the customer pays through their plan, and there can be custodial and other maintenance fees. As securities held in a retirement plan generally cannot be transferred to an IRA, commissions and sales charges may be charged when liquidating such securities prior to the transfer, in addition to commissions and sales charges previously paid on transactions in the plan.

The following fiduciary acknowledgement applies only when our Financial Professional (i) provides investment advice to participants in or the fiduciaries of ERISA-covered retirement plans and to owners of IRAs, and (ii) recommends to participants in ERISA-covered retirement plans or owners of IRAs to make a rollover to an IRA.

When we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or IRA, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of ERISA and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. Fiduciary status for this purpose does not necessarily mean we are acting as fiduciaries for purposes of other applicable laws. This acknowledgement of fiduciary status does not confer contractual rights or obligations on you, the Firm, or the Financial Professional.

Limitations on Investment Products and Services Offered by Your Financial Professional

SPF and our financial professionals offer and recommend investment products only from investment sponsors with which SPF has entered into selling and distribution agreements. Other firms may offer products and services not available through SPF or the same or similar investment products and services at lower cost. In addition, SPF may only offer certain products in a brokerage account, even though there is a version of the product that may be offered at a lower cost through an advisory account, and vice versa. The scope of products and services offered by certain financial professionals may also be more limited than what is available through other financial professionals. A financial professional's ability to offer individual products and services depends on his/ her licensing and training or firm office policy restrictions. For example, a financial professional maintaining a Series 6, Series 63, and life insurance agent license is limited to providing investment company securities, such as mutual funds and UITs and variable annuity contracts. A financial professional maintaining a Series 7, Series 63, and life insurance agent license is able to provide solutions including all securities available for sale by a Series 6 representative as well as individual stocks, bonds, and alternative investments, among others. As another example, a financial professional may only be licensed to provide brokerage services, and not advisory services, or vice versa. To provide investment advisory services, a financial professional is often required to be registered as an IAR with the state in which the financial professional has a place of business.

You should ask your financial professional about the securities or services he or she is licensed or qualified to sell, and his or her ability to service investments that you transfer to SPF from another firm. You should also review the licenses held by your financial professional by visiting the FINRA BrokerCheck system at <http://brokercheck.finra.org>.

ITEM 6 FINANCIAL PROFESSIONAL COMPENSATION, FEES AND RELATED CONFLICTS

Arrangements with Banks and Credit Unions

Our financial professionals offer brokerage and advisory services to customers of unaffiliated financial institutions, like banks and credit unions. Some of the financial professionals are employed by the financial institution and others are employed by SPF; a few are independent contractors. SPF shares compensation with the financial institution, including a portion of the commissions and fees the financial professional generates. Where the financial professional is employed by the financial institution, the financial professional is compensated (e.g. in the form of salary, bonus, compensation based on commissions, etc.) by the financial institution in accordance with the terms agreed upon between the financial institution and the financial professional and approved by SPF (which vary depending on each financial institution and employee). Where the financial professional is not an employee of the financial institution, the financial professional is compensated in accordance with the terms agreed upon between SPF and the financial institution, which may vary depending on roles and responsibilities of the financial professionals. Whether employed by the financial institution or SPF, the amount of compensation paid to the financial professional is typically between 25% to 45% and with the financial institution receiving between 0% to 100% (depending on which entity is paying the financial professional and the type and volume of investment product sales) of the commissions and ongoing trail payments that SPF receives in connection with the investments. In either case, compensation can vary depending on the investment product or service recommended. The financial institution can limit the types of products and services that may be sold by a financial professional.

Cash Compensation

SPF typically pays the financial institution and/or the financial representative a percentage of the revenue that the financial professional generates from sales of products and services conducted remotely or on the financial institution premises. The percentage received can vary (amounts noted above) depending on agreements between SPF and the financial institution as well as the investment product or service provided and can be more or less than the compensation paid at another brokerage firm. The payments can include a bonus that is based on the amount of assets serviced or revenue generated by the financial professional. When compensation is based on the level of production or assets, the financial professional has a financial incentive to meet those production or asset levels. SPF, and the financial institution, has an obligation to supervise financial professionals and may decide to terminate a financial professional's association with SPF and/or the financial institution based on performance, a disciplinary event or other factors. The amount of revenue a financial professional generates creates a conflict of interest when considering whether to terminate a financial professional.

Other Benefits

Financial Institutions and financial professionals are eligible to receive other benefits based on the revenue generated from sales of products and services. These benefits present a conflict of interest because a financial institution and the financial professional have an incentive to remain with SPF in order to maintain these benefits. These benefits include eligibility for practice management support and enhanced service support levels that confer a variety of benefits, conferences (e.g., for education, networking, training, and personal and professional development), and other non-cash compensation. These benefits also include free or reduced cost marketing materials, reimbursement or credits of fees that financial institutions and/or financial professionals pay to SPF for items such as administrative services or technology.

Fees Charged to Financial Professionals

SPF charges our financial institution and/or the financial professionals various fees including trade execution, administrative services, insurance, certain outside business activity related supervision, technology and licensing. Depending on the situation, these fees make it more or less profitable for a financial professional to offer and recommend certain services or products over others. In certain cases, these fees are reduced based on a financial professional's overall business production or the amount of assets serviced by the financial professional, which gives the financial professional an incentive to recommend that you invest more in your account or engage in more frequent transactions.

Recruitment Compensation and Operational Assistance

If a financial institution recently became associated with SPF after working with another financial services firm, the financial institution may receive compensation for transition assistance from SPF in connection with the transition. In many cases, this transition assistance includes payments from SPF that are commonly intended to assist a financial institution and/or their financial professional(s) with costs associated with the transition; however, SPF does not verify that all payments made are actually used for transition costs. In certain situations involving the transfer of customer accounts from a third party platform to SPF's platform, existing financial institution is eligible to receive a flat-dollar amount of to assist with offsetting the estimated time and expense he/she incurs to complete the account transfer process, as well as, replacing marketing and sales material with the new disclosure information.

The amount of recruitment compensation is often significant in relation to the overall revenue earned or compensation received by the financial institution. Such payments are generally based on the size of the financial institution's business established at the prior firm, for example, a percentage of the revenue earned, or assets serviced at the prior firm, or on the size of the assets that transition to SPF. The receipt of this compensation creates a conflict of interest in that the financial institution has a financial incentive to recommend that a customer open and maintain an account with SPF for advisory, brokerage and/or insurance services, and to recommend switching investment products or services where a customer's current investment options are not available through SPF, in order to receive the this type of benefit or payment.

Financial Professional's Outside Business Activities

Financial professionals are permitted to engage in certain SPF-approved outside business activities other than the providing of brokerage and advisory services through SPF, and in certain cases, a financial professional receives more compensation, benefits and non-cash compensation through an outside business activity than through SPF. Some financial professionals are real estate agents, insurance agents, or tax preparers, and some financial professionals refer customers to other service providers and receive referral fees. As an example, a financial professional could provide advisory or financial planning services through an unaffiliated investment advisory firm.

In addition, a financial professional may sell insurance through an insurance agency not affiliated with SPF. In those circumstances, the financial professional would be subject to the policies and procedures of the third-party insurance agency related to the sale of insurance products and would have different conflicts of interest than when acting on behalf of SPF. A financial professional may receive compensation, benefits and non-cash compensation through the third-party insurance agency and may have an incentive to recommend you purchase insurance products away from SPF.

If you contract with a financial professional for services separate or away from SPF, you may wish to discuss with them any questions you have about the compensation they receive from the engagement. Additional information about a financial professional's outside business activities is available on FINRA's website at http:// brokercheck.finra.org.

Compensation for Other Services

SPF and our financial professionals can offer various types of advisory and brokerage programs, platforms and services, and earn differing types and amounts of compensation depending on the type of service, program or platform in which you participate. This variation in compensation can incentivize a financial professional to recommend services, programs or platforms that generate more compensation for SPF and the financial professional than others. For example, if you expect to trade securities frequently in your account, a brokerage account in which you pay a commission for each transaction may generate more compensation for your financial professional than an advisory account that generates compensation in the form of investment advisory fees.

ITEM 7 MASSACHUSETTS FIDUCIARY RULE

The Massachusetts Securities Division has adopted amendments to its regulations as they relate to the standard of conduct applicable to broker-dealers and agents ("MA Fiduciary Rule"). In accordance with the MA Fiduciary Rule, we and our financial professionals will act without regard to the financial or other interest of any party (including our own) other the customer when making an investment recommendation to covered Massachusetts customers. Covered customers are defined as current and prospective customers including both natural and non-natural persons that do not qualify as institutional buyers. Additionally, we will disclose all material conflicts of interest and have made and will continue to make all reasonably practicable efforts to avoid conflicts of interest, eliminate conflicts that cannot reasonably be avoided, and mitigate conflicts that cannot reasonably be avoided or eliminated. The MA Fiduciary Rule does not impose an ongoing fiduciary duty beyond the time that a recommendation is made unless we have: (1) discretionary authority in an account (excluding discretion that relates solely to the time and/or price for the execution of the order), (2) a contractual fiduciary duty, or (3) a contractual obligation to monitor a customer's account on a regular or periodic basis. While the standard of conduct for broker-dealers and agents in the MA Fiduciary Rule does not apply to investment advisers or investment adviser representatives, investment advisers and investment adviser representatives are separately held to a fiduciary conduct standard under Massachusetts and federal laws. SPF does not permit its financial professionals to use investment discretion in a brokerage account or agree to a fiduciary duty or to contractually agree to monitor accounts in a brokerage relationship.
